

GRAND DUKE SERGIUS IS ASSASSINATED

PROCLAMATION OF THE REVOLUTIONISTS MARKING SERGIUS FOR ASSASSINATION

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 17.—7:30 p. m. —The sentence of death of Grand Duke Sergius was contained in a proclamation issued by the social revolutionists of Moscow after the demonstration at St. Petersburg was put down:

If our demonstration at Moscow --December 18 and 19-- is crushed in as bloody a manner as that of our brothers of St. Petersburg then be the guilt therefor upon the heads of Grand Duke Sergius and General Trepoft, and we, the Committee, in that event have FOREORDAINED THEIR DEATH.

Tragedy Takes Place Just Outside the Kremlin in Moscow—Missile Hurlled From a Sleigh by a Student

Ducal Carriage Shattered and the Coachman Fatally Injured—Terrorist Warning Saves the Duchess.

Notice Sent Her Not to Go Out Riding With Her Husband—Assassin Caught, Revolver in His Pocket.

PILOT LAID WITH A FIENDISH CARE THAT MADE FAILURE IMPOSSIBLE.

Moscow, Feb. 18.—The Death League has made good its threat. The assassination of Grand Duke Sergius yesterday afternoon was the most deliberate and carefully planned slaying ever accomplished by the Terrorists. They compassed his death with a bomb that was at once so small that it could be concealed under a cloak and so powerful that every window in the buildings facing the scene of the murder and within the radius of the concussion was shattered, and the victim was literally dismembered.

The bomb was thrown by a student in a sleigh, which was driven by a man dressed like a workman and which was brought with demoniacal skill into a position that made the result of the casting of the explosive a certainty.

But the League of Assassination was not content even with assurances of certainty. Besides the two men in the sleigh they had others in two cabs that followed the carriage of the Grand Duke to carry out the death sentence if, for any reason, the appointed executioner failed in his work.

NO POWER COULD HAVE SAVED SERGIUS.

The two cabs and the sleigh actually shepherded the Grand ducal carriage until it was so arranged that no human power could save the occupants.

None of the agents of the dread conspiracy made the slightest effort to escape. One of those in the sleigh was involved in the explosion. He is believed to be the one that threw the deadly missile.

One report has it that he was instantly killed. Another is that, though frightfully maimed, he still lives in the prison hospital.

The men arrested admit frankly they are members of the Socialist Revolution party, which is the new name of the violent Nihilists, and rejoice that the terrible plot was carried out successfully.

The assassination occurred almost at the door of the Grand Duke's palace, to which he was returning after a drive.

The explosion was heard by the Grand Duchess Elizabeth, who rushed from the palace without cloak or hat and threw herself beside the mangled body of her husband, screaming out denunciations on his murderers and refusing to leave her dead until the shattered body was lifted on a litter and carried to the palace.

the small amount due him, he would kill the old man, using the worse kind of oaths in this connection. Nimrod Speaker, the justice of the peace who settled the trial between Hann and Shafer, causing the latter to pay $2 20 and costs for services alleged to have been rendered, said Shafer grew loud and he called him down. He said Shafer told Hann never to set foot on his place again, or he would kick him off the farm. William Wilson, of Townwood, testified to the condition of Hann when the young man left for Shafer's.

John Dorian testified that Hann came up in front of Frank E. Critchett's store in Belmont and said to George Bysine that he had no love for Shafer's family and wasn't afraid of any of them. Bysine is a nephew of the prisoner. Bysine corroborated Adrain's testimony.

Lizzie Smith, of Deshier, daughter of Mrs. Mary Smith, who lived in the house on the Shafer farm, was unable to be present and her statement was read to the jury. She told of making the trip to Deshier with her mother on the Saturday night of the return and the three men there. She was one who first told the young men Shafer was coming. To her request to make away, after she saw Shafer coming, through the window Lloyd Fox said: "Let him come, we can whip the whole Shafer family. We came down here for a fuss."

Charles Smith, son of Mrs. Mary Smith, who works for Shafer on the farm, occupied about an hour in giving his testimony. He was probably the strongest witness the defense produced. He went over the case in detail, telling that Shafer must have notified Hann verbally about a dozen times to keep back, when he saw him coming. He was a short distance from the prisoner when the fatal shot was fired. He was sure at no time Shafer brought the gun to his shoulder, but that it was carried along about his waist. Although only 15 years old, he read the cross-examination well and told his story in loud, simple terms.

Harry Shafer, the 18-year-old son of the defendant, was on the stand for several hours. He said he had let Mrs. Smith out at her home and taken Lizzie Smith on in the buggy down to the Shafer barn, when they arrived home from Deshier. They walked back to Smith's, and found the three young men, Lloyd Fox, William Speaker and John Hann, there. When Fox came out of the house, he threatened to whip Harry Shafer, if he did not move on down home. Shafer went home and told his father that Fox and Speaker were at Smith's. He secured the gun and started with his father to the Smith house. From behind the door of the bedroom occupied by his father and mother, Shafer secured the gun. He had a shell in his pocket and upon the porch outside the door, gave the gun to his father. Fox and Speaker were in the road and Shafer fired at random to frighten them. Then walking a short distance he spied Hann, who was coming down the road. Previously the old man had given the gun to Harry, who had placed an extra shell in it. He told Hann to keep away, but young Shafer said he approached nearer.

Shafer said his father went out to take his part and prevent the boys from doing him up. He showed how the gun was held when the shot was fired, and said that at no time, had his father had the gun to his shoulder. Cross-examination. It was shown Shafer's statements did not agree with those given at the coroner's inquest in Belmont at the time of the murder.

Mrs. Anna Shafer, wife of the defendant, testified, but new little concerning the case. She said she was about 50 years of age. She is pale and nervous, and the strain of the trial week is showing upon her. Dr. G. R. Adrain was recalled by the defense, and located the shot in the body and the way the person must have been standing at the time the gun was discharged.

The court house had by this time filled up until breathing was almost impossible. The fact that the important witnesses were being put on and that it had been given out Shafer would go on the stand in his own behalf, caused the crowds to appear.

All necks were eagerly craned when Shafer himself was called to the stand. He said Harry wanted to kill Fox the night of the murder, when he had threatened to whip him, and that he told him he did not dare to do so. He went with him as a protection to the boy, and they took the gun along. He told of firing it off twice to scare the boys away, whom he feared would attack him. When Hann kept on advancing, Shafer said, he thought sure he was laying for him, and in watching him approach, somehow his thumb touched the trigger of the gun and the weapon was discharged. He said he cocked the gun, thinking he would fire at random again, if they did not depart. But he said he did not mean to kill Hann or anyone, and that he would give all he owned if he had not done so. He told the jury he did not sleep much the night of the murder, nor had he been able to rest since. He showed the jury just how he handled the gun and told his story in an excited manner, always telling more than was asked of him, and having to be held in line to answer the questions put to him. He told of seeing Hann fall, yet went into his house, leaving the wounded man to get along the best he could. He said it was not until Saturday night, in the jail at Belmont, that he knew Hann was dead.

Lloyd Fox and William Speaker being recalled by the state, testified that Shafer did not warn Hann to stay away from his place at the time he was advancing toward him. That Fox had not made a plunge at Shafer, as he had testified, before Hann came up, and that Fox was not in his shirt sleeves, as both Shafer and his son testified was shown by the state.

Following his testimony Shafer broke down and wept like a child. He was pale and nervous during the time he was on the stand, and the strain is showing upon him.

New York, Feb. 18.—The Missouri Pacific Railway company has issued $25,000,000 of 4 per cent collateral trust bonds, secured by stock of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern railroad. It is understood that Kuhn, Loeb & Co. have effected a sale of the bonds largely abroad at 95 and interest.

REJECT DEMANDS OF THE FIREMEN

Acute Crisis Has Been Reached Between New Haven Company and Its Men—Firemen Vote to Strike.

Some Means May Be Found to Effect a Compromise Satisfactory to All.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 18.—The answer of the directors' committee of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad to the demands of the firemen sustains the position of President Mellen, who rejected the demands.

The answer was given to Timothy Shea, Second Vice Grand Master of the Brotherhood of Railroad Firemen, late yesterday afternoon.

Shea's Statement.

A few minutes later he issued the following statement:

"The decision from the Board of Directors has been received, and it has sustained the President. I have no statement to give out at the present time."

He declined to say whether the rejection of the demands would probably be followed by a strike.

Neither the officials of the road nor the labor leaders would discuss the probable outcome.

Of the 1,400 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen who are employed by the N. Y. N. H. & H. railroad there are 300 who have been promoted to engine drivers, but

BOMB SENDS FEAR TO THE HEARTS OF ALL

Revival of the Reign of Terror Which Followed the Tragic Death of Czar's Grandfather, Feared Throughout the Empire.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 18.—The sound of the bomb in Moscow, which blew the Grand Duke Sergius, uncle of the Czar, into eternity, marks a new and dreaded phase of the revolutionary movement, which is rending Russia from the Caucasus to the Baltic.

That it has struck horror to the hearts of all classes in the Russian capital, both reactionary and liberal, is not overstating the case. The leaders of the liberal movement are completely cast down by the awful tragedy and fear that not only have all their hopes and plans for the liberalization of the government been for the time at least, hopelessly wrecked, but they fear a revival of the reign of terror which followed the assassination of the grandfather of the present Czar.

At this juncture the whole power of the Russian police and army is under command of General Trepoft, whose father was at the head of the imperial police at the time of the assassination of the Czar Alexander and who, by his awful cruelties, gained so terrible a notoriety in the suppression of the Nihilists of that day. The son is of the same stamp as the father, and, if given a free hand, as it is feared he will be, similar terrible scenes will be enacted as were told of Vera Sasulitch, when she was tried for shooting down the elder Trepoft.

The official classes are thus aroused to their danger and extreme precautions are being taken to prevent assassinations from reaching members of the royal family and high officials whose lives are believed to be in danger.

It is understood that the death of the Czar, Grand Dukes Vladimir and Alexis, the Dowager Empress, General Trepoft, M. Bouligan and several other reactionary officers has been decreed by the "reds" and that the men who are to act as executioners of the revolutionary tribunal have already been selected.

A significant fact is that among the working classes expressions of rejoicing at the execution of the man who has been regarded as one of the bitterest enemies of the people are much more frequent than expressions of regret.

SAYS SHOOTING WAS AN ACCIDENT

Shafer, on Trial for Murder, Tells Story of Killing—Was Protecting a Son.

Ottawa, O., Feb. 18.—The Rossell P. Shafer murder trial was continued this morning, pleas being made by counsel for both sides. The case will go to the jury this afternoon. The court room was crowded.

The prosecution gave a strong chain of evidence, but there are things to be taken into consideration in favor of the defense. The principal state witnesses are declared to have been intoxicated, more or less, and this tends to the possibility that they were too drunk to know just what did happen. Shafer will undoubtedly be given the benefit of these doubts when the case is taken up by the jury. Shafer acknowledged to shooting

Hann, but declared it was in an accidental manner.

Art. Davenport, of Townwood, testified yesterday that he talked to the murdered man and the two young men that accompanied him, just before they left for Belmont, the night of the murder, and that Hann had said they were going out to Shafer's to have a time, using oaths. Art. Reynolds also testified to the intoxicated condition of Hann when he left Belmont.

John Compton, of Townwood, said he talked to the young men just before they left for Shafer's place, and they said they were going down there "for a time." Compton said Hann told him that unless Shafer settled

INEVITABLE

Has Happened and Such a Quietness

ALL PUBLIC PLACES ORDERED
CLOSED BY THE HEALTH BOARD LAST NIGHT FOR TWENTY-ONE DAYS.

Lima town will be a dead one for a week or two.
That sacred cantata announced for tonight at the Market Street Presbyterian church, will not take place.
The wrestling match announced for Farror's opera house two weeks from tonight, has died a burning. In fact there will be nothing whatever doing until after March 8th, the health board at a meeting last night closing all public places for a period of twenty-one days. This includes all parochial and private schools of the city, all churches and Sunday schools,
all theatres, including the Farror
and the concert halls, the Auditorium and the Armory, and all other halls where public gatherings of any kind are held, which applies to private dances as well, the Deisel-Wemmer and the American Cigar company's factories, the Y. M. C. A. classes, and all regular or other public gatherings of any nature whatsoever, are prohibited within the city.

Under the head of "private"
schools comes the Lima Business College and all other educational institutions not in the category of public or parochial schools.
The above action of the health board, which seems to many as not warranted, is occasioned by the number of cases of small pox in the city.
The situation is not at all serious and if properly handled there is little question that the disease could have been wiped out without creating such a stir as the closing of all public places will occasion. But the deed has been done. The advertisement has been placed and Lima must reap the consequences. Altogether, there are about twenty houses in the city under quarantine and at these twenty places about fifty people are sick with small pox.

In previous small pox epidemics a pest house was considered a necessity and all new cases were promptly taken there. During this scare the pest house has received no consideration.

Why?
On motion of Member Stolzenbach
the board of education is required to take the necessary steps to enforce the compulsory vaccination section of the state laws, section 3986 of the revised statutes of Ohio, and Health Officer Jones urges all parents to co-operate with the health department and the board of education, to the end that the danger may be passed as soon as possible.

It was further voted that all secret and fraternal societies of the city be requested to refrain from holding meetings for the period covered by the ban on public gatherings.

GRAND DUKE SERGIUS IS ASSASSINATED

PROCLAMATION OF THE REVOLUTIONISTS MARKING SERGIUS FOR ASSASSINATION

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 17.—7:30 p. m. —The sentence of death of Grand Duke Sergius was contained in a proclamation issued by the social revolutionists of Moscow after the demonstration at St. Petersburg was put down:

If our demonstration at Moscow—December 18 and 19—is crushed in as bloody a manner as that of our brothers of St. Petersburg then be the guilt therefor upon the heads of Grand Duke Sergius and General Trepoff, and we, the Committee, in that event have FOREORDAINED THEIR DEATH.

Ducal Carriage Shattered and the Coachman Fatally Injured—Terrorist Warning Saves the Duchess.

Notice Sent Her Not to Go Out Riding With Her Husband—Assassin Caught, Revolver in His Pocket.

PLOT LAID WITH A FIENDISH CARE THAT MADE FAILURE IMPOSSIBLE.

Moscow, Feb. 18.—The Death League has made good its threat. The assassination of Grand Duke Sergius yesterday afternoon was the most deliberate and carefully planned slaying ever accomplished by the Terrorists.

They compassed his death with a bomb that was at once so small that it could be concealed under a cloak and so powerful that every window in the buildings facing the scene of the murder and within the radius of the concussion was shattered, and the victim was literally dismembered.

The bomb was thrown by a student in a sleigh, which was driven by a man dressed like a workman and which was brought with demoniacal skill into a position that made the result of the casting of the explosive a certainty.

But the League of Assassination was not content even with assurances of certainty. Besides the two men in the sleigh they had others in two cabs that followed the carriage of the Grand Duke to carry out the death sentence if, for any reason, the appointed executioner failed in his work.

NO POWER COULD HAVE SAVED SERGIUS.

The two cabs and the sleigh actually surrounded the Grand ducal carriage until it was so arranged that no human power could save the occupants.

None of the agents of the dread conspiracy made the slightest effort to escape. One of those in the sleigh was involved in the explosion. He is believed to be the one that threw the death missile.

One report has it that he was instantly killed. Another is that, though frightfully maimed, he still lives in the prison hospital.

The men arrested, frankly they are members of the Socialist Revolution party, which is the new name of the violent Nihilists, and rejoice that the terrible plot was carried out successfully.

The assassination occurred almost at the door of the Grand Duke's palace, to which he was returning after a drive.

The explosion was heard by the Grand Duchess Elizabeth, who rushed from the palace without cloak or hat and threw herself beside the mangled body of her husband, screaming out denunciations on his murderers and refusing to leave her dead until the shattered body was lifted on a litter and carried to the palace.

the small amount due him, he would kill the old man, using the worse kind of oaths in this connection. Nimrod Speaker, the justice of the peace who settled the trial between Hann and Shafer, causing the latter to pay $2 20 and come for services alleged to have been rendered, said Shafer grew loud and he called him down. He said Shafer told Hann never to set foot on his place again, or he would kick him off the farm. William Wilson, of Townwood, testified to the condition of Hann when the young man left for Shafer's.

John Adrain testified that Hann came up in front of Frank E. Critchett's store in Belmore and said to George Bysine that he had no love for Shafer's family and wasn't afraid of any of them. Bysine is a nephew of the prisoner. Bysine corroborated Adrain's testimony.

Lizzie Smith, of Deshier, daughter of Mrs. Mary Smith, who lived in the house on the Shafer farm, was unable to be present and her statement was read to the jury. She told of making the trip to Deshier with her mother on the Saturday night, of the return and the three men there. She was one who first told the young men Shafer was coming. To her request to make away, after she saw Shafer coming, through the window Lloyd Fox said: "Let him come, we can whip the whole Shafer family. We came down here for a fight."

Charles Smith, son of Mrs. Mary Smith, who works for Shafer on the farm, occupied about an hour in giving his testimony. He was probably the strongest witness the defense produced. He went over the case in detail, telling that Shafer must have notified Hann verbally about a dozen times to keep back, when he saw him coming. He was a short distance from the prisoner when the fatal shot was fired. He was sure at no time Shafer brought the gun to his shoulder, but that it was carried along about his waist. Although only 17 years old, he passed the cross-examination well and told his story in loud, simple terms.

Harry Shafer, the 18-year-old son of the defendant, was on the stand for several hours. He said he had let Mrs. Smith out at her home and taken Lizzie Smith on in the buggy down to the Shafer barn, when they arrived home from Deshier. They walked back to Smith's, and found the three young men, Lloyd Fox, William Speaker and John Hann, there. When Fox came out of the house, he threatened to whip Harry Shafer, if he did not move on down home. Shafer went home and told his father that Fox and Speaker were at Smith's. He secured the gun and started with his father to the Smith house. From behind the door of the bedroom occupied by his father and mother, Shafer secured the gun. He had a shell in his pocket and upon the porch outside the door, gave the gun to his father. Fox and Speaker were in the road and Shafer fired at random to frighten them. Then walking a short distance he sped Hann, who was coming down the road. Previously the old man had given the gun to Harry, who had placed an extra shell in it. He told Hann to keep away, but young Shafer said he approached nearer.

Shafer said his father went out to take his part and prevent the boys from doing him up. The snow how the gun was held when the shot was fired, and said that at no time, had his father had the gun to his shoulder. Cross-examination. It was shown Shafer's statements did not agree with those given at the coroner's inquest in Belmont at the time of the murder.

Mrs. Anna Shafer, wife of the defendant, testified, but saw little concerning the case. She said she was about 50 years of age. She is pale and nervous, and the strain of the trial week is showing upon her. Dr. G. R. Adrain was recalled by the defense and located the shot in the body and the way the person must have been standing at the time the gun was discharged.

The court house had by this time filled up until breathing was almost impossible. The fact that the important witnesses were being put on and that it had been given out Shafer would go on the stand in his own behalf, caused the crowds to appear.

All necks were eagerly craned when Shafer himself was called to the stand. He said Harry wanted to kill Fox the night of the murder, when he had threatened to whip him, and that he told him he did not dare to do so. He went with him as a protection to the boy, and they took the gun along. He told of firing it off twice to scare the boys away, whom he feared would attack him. When Hann kept on advancing, Shafer said, he thought sure he was laying for him, and in watching him approach, somehow his thumb touched the trigger of the gun and the weapon was discharged. He said he cocked the gun, thinking he would fire at random again, if they did not depart. But he said he did not mean to kill Hann or anyone, and that he would give all he owned if he had not done so. He told the jury he did not sleep much the night of the murder, nor had he been able to rest since. He showed the jury just how he handled the gun and told his story in an excited manner, always telling more than was asked of him, and having to be held in line to answer the questions put to him. He told of seeing Hann fall, yet went into his house, leaving the wounded man to get along the best he could. He said it was not until Saturday night, in the jail at Belmore, that he knew Hann was dead.

Lloyd Fox and William Speaker being recalled by the state, testified that Shafer did not warn Hann to stay away from his place at the time he was advancing toward him. That Fox had not made a plunge at Shafer, as he had testified, before Hann came up, and that Fox was not in his shirt-sleeves, as both Shafer and his son testified was shown by the state.

Following his testimony Shafer broke down and wept like a child. He was pale and nervous during the time he was on the stand, and the strain is showing upon him.

REJECT DEMANDS OF THE FIREMEN

Acute Crisis Has Been Reached Between New Haven Company and Its Men—Firemen Vote to Strike.

Some Means May Be Found to Effect a Compromise Satisfactory to All.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 18.—The answer of the directors' committee of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad to the demands of the firemen sustains the position of President Mollen, who rejected the demands.

The answer was given to Timothy Shea, Second Vice Grand Master of the Brotherhood of Railroad Firemen, late yesterday afternoon.

Shea's Statement.

A few minutes later he issued the following statement: "The decision from the Board of Directors has been received, and it has sustained the President. I have no statement to give out at the present time."

He declined to say whether the rejection of the demands would probably be followed by a strike.

Neither the officials of the road nor the labor leaders would discuss the probable outcome.

Of the 1,400 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen who are employed by the N. Y. N. H. & H. railroad there are 300 who have been promoted to engine drivers, but

BOMB SENDS FEAR TO THE HEARTS OF ALL

Revival of the Reign of Terror Which Followed the Tragic Death of Czar's Grandfather, Feared Throughout the Empire.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 18.—The sound of the bomb in Moscow, which blew the Grand Duke Sergius, uncle of the Czar, into eternity, marks a new and dreaded phase of the revolutionary movement, which is rending Russia from the Caucasus to the Baltic.

That it has struck horror to the hearts of all classes in the Russian capital, both reactionary and liberal, is not overstating the case. The leaders of the liberal movement are completely cast down by the awful tragedy and fear that not only have all their hopes and plans for the liberalization of the government been wrecked, but they fear a revival of the reign of terror which followed the assassination of the grandfather of the present Czar.

At this juncture the whole power of the Russian police and army is under command of General Trepoff, whose father was at the head of the imperial police at the time of the assassination of the Czar Alexander and who, by his awful cruelties, gained notoriety in the suppression of the Nihilists of that day. The son is of the same stamp as the father and, if given a free hand, as it is feared he will be, similar terrible scenes will be enacted as were told of Vera Sarafitch, when she was tried for shooting down the elder Trepoff.

The official classes are thus aroused to their danger and extreme precautions are being taken to prevent assassins from reaching members of the royal family and high officials whose lives are believed to be in danger.

It is understood that the death of the Czar, Grand Dukes Vladimir and Alexis, the Dowager Empress, General Trepoff, M. Boulignan and several other reactionary officers has been decided by the "reds" and that the men who are to act as executioners of the revolutionary tribunal have already been selected.

A significant fact is that among the working classes expressions of rejoicing at the execution of the man who has been regarded as one of the bitterest enemies of the people are much more frequent than expressions of regret.

SAYS SHOOTING WAS AN ACCIDENT

Shafer, on Trial for Murder, Tells Story of Killing—Was Protecting a Son.

Ottawa, O., Feb. 18.—The Rossell P. Shafer murder trial was continued this morning, pleas being made by counsel for both sides. The case will go to the jury this afternoon. The court room was crowded.

The prosecution gave a strong chain of evidence, but there are things to be taken into consideration in favor of the defense.

The principal state witnesses are declared to have been intoxicated, more or less, and this leads to the possibility that they were too drunk to know just what did happen. Shafer will undoubtedly be given the benefit of these doubts when the case is taken up by the jury. Shafer acknowledged to shooting

Hann, but declared it was in an accidental manner.

Art. Davenport, of Townwood, testified yesterday that he talked to the murdered man and the two young men that accompanied him, just before they left for Belmore, the night of the murder, and that Hann had said they were going out to Shafer's to have a time, using oaths. Art. Reynolds also testified to the intoxicated condition of Hann when he left Belmore.

John Compton, of Townwood, said he talked to the young men just before they left for Shafer's place, and they said they were going down there "for a time." Compton said Hann told him that unless Shafer settled

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

At Meeting of Business Men Last Night Asking for a Modification of the Present Quarantine.

A Large Crowd Was Present and the Question Was Freely Discussed.

DOCTORS UNABLE TO AGREE

Probable That Factories Will Be Allowed to Open. Attorney Ridenour Holds That Health Board Hasn't the Power to Close Them and Question May Later Be Decided in the Courts.

The meeting of the business men of the city held last night in the council room, to consider the recent action of the board of health relative to the rigid quarantine recently established by that body as a result of the small pox scare, was largely attended and proved a very interesting affair. The object of the session was to hear the report from the Committee of physicians appointed at the meeting held yesterday morning at Hale's jewelry store and to adopt resolutions requesting the health board to modify to an extent that part of the quarantine affecting factories and private concerns.

The meeting was called to order by Attorney J. C. Ridenour and W. H. Woolery was selected as chairman and Mr. Feltz, Secretary.

The report of the physicians was called for and Dr. D. W. Steiner, chairman of the committee, announced that they had not been fully informed as to what was expected of them consequently they had not yet held a meeting, but could retire, talk the matter over and in a short time make a report.

During their absence Chairman Bacon, of committee of business men appointed to confer with the health authorities and ascertain as nearly as possible the seriousness of the situation made his report.

Said he had learned that twenty-three families in different sections of the city were under quarantine at the present time and that from one to six cases existed in each family, in all between forty and fifty cases.

Mr. Newton said State Health Officer Landick was authority for the statement that there had not been one fatality due to small pox in this city during the past four years.

Mr. Ridenour moved that the report of Mr. Bacon be accepted and that Health Officer Jones be requested to withdraw the quarantine from all but public places, contending that the law gave that official no right to quarantine private institutions, except in places where there is a case in existence, and then the quarantine could exist only so long as the case existed.

Father Rupert wanted to know if Ridenour's motion would release the churches and schools, holding that saloons should also be closed if the churches are to be included. Said school children were now exposed to a greater extent running the streets than in the school rooms.

Mr. Ridenour replied that the Health Board had the right to close the churches, schools, Opera Houses, dance halls, but denied them the right to close any private institution, thus affecting 95 per cent of the people who require salaries in order to live. He represented the American Cigar Factory and said any order of the Board of Health to close would be resisted, unless there is a case existing therein and stays therein.

Father Rupert said he had seen a great deal of small pox and in the year 1882 had attended over one hundred cases. The small pox then was altogether different from that existing in this city at the present time—said he would rather have the kind now reported here than a real kind cold—was unable to make up his mind that it was the real thing. He didn't think it necessary to go to such extremes because of the little scare. That business in Lima was too extensive to be disturbed by the mild form now prevalent here. Thought the health board should be upheld in over thing just and right, but was of the belief that their action of the night previous should be reconsidered. The pupils of the parochial schools he said would be better protected in school than on the streets.

Mr. Woolery: "We don't want an epidemic, neither do we want a scare that will scare every dollar away from Lima. Marion had just such an experience as Lima is having. They started in the same way Lima is starting to wipe out small pox and it was fully a year before the town recovered. Too many things in jeopardy to establish such a rigid quarantine."

Mr. Connelly, of the Electric Light Company, said it was up to the board of health to provide a pest house; take the small pox patients there and treat them.

Some one asked where he would locate it, citizens in different parts of city a few years ago objecting to such an institution in their particular part of the city.

Mr. Connelly answered that that would be a matter for the Health Board to wrestle with.

It will be remembered by readers of the DAILY NEWS that a pest house was once established on the old Shade farm, on east Kibby street and that the building was fired one night and burned to the ground.

At this juncture of the meeting the Committee of physicians fled into the room.

Dr. D. W. Steiner, the Chairman stated that while it was the general opinion of the committee that the strictures employed by the health board were severe and unnecessarily so, the physicians could not agree and could not arrive at any general conclusion. Individually, however, he urged the necessity of vaccination. Said the dreadfulness of the disease in the city cannot be denied. He heartily favored the action of the health board and said the time to stop the spread is now.

Dr. Bates called for the report of Dr. Bice, Secretary of the committee. The Doctor stated that a motion was presented by Dr. Vail that all factories, schools and public places remain open and that vaccination be resorted to and made compulsory as a means of preventing further spread. His motion was carried by 5 yeas and 3 nays.

Dr. Vail stated that he could not see how anything was to be accomplished by closing up places, but you can stamp the disease out by vaccination and that is the only way you can stamp it out.

Dr. Bates said that measures too radically enforced by the health board had been taken. Considering the few cases emanating from the schools their closing was not justified. The closing of the schools for 21 days was the worst proposition with which to contend. Said the prevailing opinion of the committee favored compulsory vaccination, that all industries be allowed to proceed. Said there was ground for the closing of the opera house, churches, dance halls, but that some modification might be made in the general order of the health board.

Dr. Johnson did not think the closing of the schools and shops necessary but compulsory vaccination—however, he did not believe in compulsory vaccination, was of the belief that there was more bad results from vaccination than from the present epidemic of small pox.

Dr. Terwilliger expressed his surprise at the committee not being able to agree. He hoped that they could decide upon something definite, but they couldn't—adding that great minds differ—I am opposed to closing the schools, churches and factories. I believe in compulsory vaccination. The board of health was unwise in taking such drastic measures without first calling into consultation

PIPE LINES ARE MADE COMMON CARRIERS.

Kansas Legislature Aims Another Blow at the Standard Oil Trust—Governor is Ready to Sign Measure

Federal Authorities Complete Plans for Investigation of Existing Conditions.

Chanute, Kan., Feb. 18.—The Standard Oil company is again buying oil in the Chanute district. It is believed they will soon put on men and finish the construction of work that was stopped a week ago. Reports from Independence, Peru and other places indicate that the Standard is again buying oil throughout the Kansas oil belt.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 18.—The official plan for the investigation of the Standard Oil trust will be completed within a few hours. "No time will be lost in conducting the investigation," said Secretary Metcalf of the Department of Commerce and Labor. "The facilities and means available are ample."

Word was received here yesterday that the agents detailed from the Western points have already reached the field. The Washington agents will be here in two days. The department has plenty of money for all necessary expenses.

Aside from the general investigation of the Standard Oil company, the great question to be answered is this: Was the trust's boycott order of last Saturday a criminal offense under the Sherman anti-trust law?

After the facts are in legal form the Department of Justice will give a formal opinion as to this question.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 18.—The Kansas Legislature has passed and Governor Hoch last night said he would sign the bill making all oil pipes common carriers. This bill is regarded by the producers as fully as important as the law establishing the state oil refinery. The bill is one which oil producers in Pennsylvania and other Eastern states have urged the passage of twenty years, but the Standard Oil company has been able by its well known methods to prevent the passage in other states.

The bill makes the Standard pipe line and all other pipe lines under the control of the State Board of Railway commissioners. The principal provisions of the law are as follows:

"Section 1—All pipe line built, or maintained for the conveyance of crude oil within the state of Kansas are hereby declared to be common carriers, and said conveyance of said oil shall be in the manner and under the restrictions of this act provided."

Muster Provide Receipts.

"Section 2—It shall be the duty of every person, firm, association or corporation operating such pipe line to provide suitable and necessary receptacles for receiving such oil for transportation and for storage at place of delivery until the same can be reasonably removed by the consignee, and shall be liable therefor from the time the same is delivered for transportation until a reasonable time after the same has been transported to the place of consignee and ready for delivery to the consignee."

It shall be the duty of every such person, firm, association or corporation to receive and forward such oil as shall be offered for shipment in the order of application therefor upon the application complying with the rules herein provided for as to delivery and payment of such transportation. But no application for such transportation shall be valid beyond or for a greater quantity than the applicant has ready for delivery at the time of making such application.

Fives Prices to Be Charged.

"Section 3—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation to charge for the transportation of such crude oil through its line in excess of the following rates for each barrel of forty-two gallons transported: six miles and less, 5 cents. Every six miles and not more than fifteen miles, 10 cents; over fifteen miles and not more than forty miles, 15 cents; over forty miles and not more than eighty miles, 20 cents; over eighty miles and not more than 100 miles, 21 cents; over 100 miles and not more than 150 miles, 25 cents; over 150 miles and not more than 200 miles, 27 cents; over 200 miles and not more than 250 miles, 30 cents; over 250 miles and not more than 300 miles, 35 cents.

"This will," said Mr. M. L. Lockwood, one of the big Kansas oil producers, "make it possible for independent refiners to do business along the Standard's pipe line. The independents can have oil shipped to them through the line of the Standard and pay the price for its transportation fixed by this bill."

AGAIN BUYING OIL

Chanute, Kan., Feb. 18.—The Standard Oil company is again buying oil in the Chanute district after refusing to take any for one week. The construction of the pipe lines in the territories which was recently suspended, is also again in progress.

Reports from Independence, Peru and other places indicate that the Standard Oil company is buying there also.

THE OTHER SIDE

Prairie Oil Man Says It's a Stock Jobbers' Scheme.

Kansas City, Kan., Feb. 18.—John O'Brien, assistant general manager of the Prairie Oil and Gas company, which handles the bulk of the crude oil produced in Kansas and Indian Territory oil fields, was in Kansas City today and discussed conditions in the Kansas field, where an agitation against the Standard Oil company has been carried to such an extent that it has been an object of national interest. Mr. O'Brien said:

"The Prairie Oil and Gas company's determination to suspend further construction operations in the Kansas and territory held follows as a natural result of the hostile agitation which was designed and carried on mostly by stock holders to injure the Standard Oil company, as they term it."

The only way in which these stock holders could ward off the consequences of an exposure of their operations lay in securing a plausible excuse with which to allay the clamor of stockholders.

"Few people realize the extent to which the stock jobbing business has been carried on in Kansas. It might say that the huge stock company of Chicago, Kansas City and St. Louis, owned by the Standard Oil company, has a capital of $1,000,000, or over $1,000,000, and that it has a production of 1,558 barrels per day, or about 21 barrels production per day to each million dollars of capital."

"It will be readily seen that the wonderful promises made to stockholders have never been carried out and the only salvation for the promoters lay in the possibility of placing the blame on somebody, and the Standard Oil company was selected as the target. This agitation gives most of them their only excuse for failure to comply with their promises to stockholders."

Locomotive Boiler Explosion.

There should be thorough investigation of the recent locomotive boiler explosion on the New York Central. A steam boiler, if well designed, properly maintained and operated by a competent man, should be perfectly safe, and the report of one of the most remarkable of railway accidents indicates that the boiler of the engine drawing the westbound New York and Chicago train was not in good condition or that the men in the cab were negligent. The wrecked locomotive fell upon the next track just in time to derail the passenger train from Buffalo, every car was thrown from the rails and many of the occupants in Pullman berths were injured.
Scarcely less extraordinary than the explosion at the meeting of the two trains was the fact that only two lives were lost; a fireman killed and an engineer was fatally wounded.

Although this appears to be an accident without parallel, railroad managers cannot afford to assume that the Whitesboro explosion and detail-ment will not be repeated. Locomotives not frequently inspected menace the safety of passengers particularly in terminal yards, and that the New York Central is not the only road having defective boilers or careless employees is shown by the accident record published in the Railway Inspector. Four boilers exploded on roads of high repute, the Lake Shore, Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, and the Rock Island being among the number. Now the New York Central is added to the list, and the public probably will conclude that what traffic is heavy and motive power is secure managers forget that reliability of locomotives is more important than the movement of extra traffic, and take the chances of deferring repairs. Railway commissioners will render the public good service by taking up the question of engine maintenance if operating officials fail to be impressed by the lesson of disastrous explosions.

CARL HAGENBECK
THE ANIMAL KING

ORGANIZES BRAND NEW CIRCUS
FULL OF THRILLING, SEN-SATIONAL ACTS.

STARTS ON ITS FIRST TOUR
APRIL NEXT FROM ST. LOUIS, MO., AND WILL VISIT
OUR CITY.

Carl Hagenbeck, the best known showman in Europe, the greatest dealer in wild animals, who supplies 25 per cent of the shows of the entire world, with some of the best known showmen in the Western Hemisphere, organizes a brand new circus. This is a task, which was never attempted before in this country.

The big shows now under canvas started out perhaps a half century ago as small wagon-shows and after every successful season were enlarged by buying a few more wagons and engaging a few more people. When those shows grew too big for wagon-shows, they bought a few old railroad cars and they began gradually the enterprising enterprises, which represent today an outlay of several millions.

The outfit of the Hagenbeck Trained Animal Show will be entirely new.
The flat cars and sleeping cars are being built now in Pullman, Ill. Up-to-date in every detail. The most gorgeous parade wagons and cages are built in Cincinnati, Ohio. The canvas poles, lights, harness, uniforms, the Hagenbeck Show will give the show-loving public something novel, something extraordinary, which has been never exhibited before under canvas.

The Hagenbeck Trained Animal
Show by including our city in its tour, will give our show-loving people the opportunity to see the marvelous acts of performing trained wild animals, the same acts which were enjoyed by thousands and thousands during the seven months of the St. Louis World's Fair, which made the Hagenbeck Show the central attraction of the Fair.

Sure
Relief for Women.No. 18 Central Ave.
HOT SPRINGS, ARK., April 30, 1905.

Eighteen months ago I was completely run down that my body ached from head to foot. My back seemed to break in two and I suffered intense pain in the lower abdomen. I could not afford to lay off and take a rest, and no medicine helped me any.
A friend told me how much Wine of Cardui had helped her and advised me by all means to take it. The day I took the first dose the recovery of my health began. It was nearly three months before I was entirely cured, but at the end of that time I was in better health than I had been for seven years.
I look on Wine of Cardui as the most blessed medicine that a woman could possibly take when she feels sick and tired of life.

Anna Nelson
ORATOR, WEDNESDAY CHAUTAUQUE CLUB.

WINE of CARDUI

Mrs. Nelson describes the condition of thousands of women. That condition comes by slow stages. Usually the important function of menstruation is at first slightly irregular. Then comes the painful periods. Bearing-down pains and ovarian inflammation follow. Finally the nervous system gives way and the whole system has become affected and the pulse rack the body from head to foot.
Wine of Cardui is a menstrual regulator of established reputation. No woman who takes it suffers as Mrs. Nelson suffered. It gives speedy and complete relief from the torturing menstrual agonies which are making so many women invalids today. Do not let yourself come to the pitiable condition Mrs. Nelson describes.
Secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today and begin treatment immediately.

AGED PIONEER DEAD

Kollsmith Was in Business in Delphos Since 1855.

Delphos, Ohio, Feb. 18.—Frederick Kollsmith, a business man in this city since 1853, is dead. He was a native of Germany and, when he came to America, landed at New Orleans. He came to Ohio by way of the Mississippi and Ohio rivers and "walked" from Cincinnati to Findlay, where was the terminus of the Cincinnati, Sandusky and Cleveland railroad, which had rails of wood. He was blacksmith and wagonmaker by trade, and engaged successfully in business here from 1853 until last March, when he turned the business over to his sons from St. John's church tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Chadwick in Court
in Real Good Health

Answers Her Attorneys With Smiles and Rejects
Many Bills Given Her For Examination--
Only Small Claims Brought Up.

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 18.—When the Chadwick bankruptcy hearing was called before Referee Remington yesterday afternoon, J. P. Dawley, counsel for Mrs. Chadwick, asked that the appointment of a trustee be postponed for one week.

He said that at that time Mrs.
Chadwick would be prepared to file a list of all her creditors, together with the amount of their claims.
Mr. Dawley declared that, without the co-operation of Mr. Chadwick her creditors would receive little or nothing.

Referee Remington, in reply, stated that Mrs. Chadwick had been ordered a month ago to prepare a schedule of her liabilities, but had failed to do so, and that the proceedings must go on without further delay.

Two Hours Granted.
After more argument on the part of Dawley, the referee finally granted a delay of two hours.

A Deputy Marshal was ordered to bring Mrs. Chadwick from the county jail to the courtroom at the expiration of that time.

When the hearing was subsequently resumed Mrs. Chadwick was in attendance.

She was attired in the same handsome brown costume that she wore when she appeared in the United States District court on the day of her arrival from New York to plead to the charges against her.

Seemed in Good Health.
Apparently she was enjoying excellent health. She walked briskly into the courtroom and displayed none of the nervousness that marked her hearing when last seen in public.

On the contrary, she was perfectly calm and collected, and frequently smiled when conversing with her attorneys.

She examined each of the claims against her in a critical manner, and rejected a number of them wholly or in part.

Among those repudiated by Mrs.
Chadwick was the claim of Freda Swanson, her maid, who presented a sworn statement showing that her employer owed her for seven months' service at $45 per month.

Mrs. Chadwick declared that she did not owe Freda so much.

Rejects Small Bill.
When a small bill for a manure set was passed to Mrs. Chadwick for examination she disdainfully tossed it

HINTS BY MAY MANTON.

4902 Fancy Waist, 32 to 40 bust.
4902 Fancy Waists, 32 to 40 bust.
FANCY WAIST 4902.

Fancy waists made with a suspender suggestion are among the novelties of the season and are singularly attractive in the soft and pliable materials of fashion. This one includes also a waistcoat effect and sleeves of the latest style. As illustrated the material is champagne colored chiffon veiling combined with chiffon velvet and ecru lace, but there are many others that can be substituted. The little frill that falls below the suspenders is peculiarly graceful and is made of lace of a finer, softer sort than is used for the chemisette and waistcoat.

The waist consists of the fitted lining, chemisette, waistcoat, full portion and suspenders, the closing being made at the centre front and left shoulder seam. The sleeves are shirred at their upper portions and again at the seams and are arranged over fitted foundations which hold the fullness in place. The belt is wide in giraffe style, and to it the suspenders are attached.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 5 1-4 yards 21, 4 3-4 yards 27 or 21-2 yards 44 inches wide, with 5-8 yards of all-over lace for chemisette. 1-8 yards of velvet for waistcoat and belt. 1 3-4 yards of lace edging and 3-4 yards for frill to make as illustrated.

The pattern 4902 is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40 inch bust measure.

HINTS BY MAY MANTON.

4906 Bath Robe, 32 to 44 bust.
4906 Bath Robe, 32 to 44 bust.
BATH ROBE 4906.

Bath robes that are simply made yet are shapely and comfortable are among the best that can be offered, and are attractive by material and trimming. This one includes bell shaped sleeves with roll-over cuffs and is made of dark red eider-down flannel with bands of silk, but is suited to all materials in vogue for garments of the sort and the trimming can be of any heading that may be preferred. The generous pocket is a feature and contributes to the comfort of the garment.

The bath robe is made with fronts and backs and is fitted by means of shoulder, under-arm and centre back seams. The sleeves are made in one piece each, finished at their lower edges with cuffs.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 7 3-4 yards 27, 6 1-4 yards 44 or 4 1-2 yards 52 inches wide, with 1 7-8 yards of silk for bands.

The pattern 4906 is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inch bust measure.

FENSTERMAKER

Makes a Good Catch—Arrests James Wooley at Alger This Morning

Is Wanted For Shooting With Intent to Kill Detective Bates.

About one year ago it will be remembered, James Wooley, while in the act of stealing coal in the west yards of the Pennsylvania railroad in this city was interrupted by Detective Bates, of that railroad. Wooley was shot twice and in turn shot the detective. Wooley was taken to the hospital and after his recovery was sentenced to the Toledo work house.

Bates finally recovered and is still in the employ of the railroad company. Meantime the grand jury indicted Wooley, charging him with shooting with intent to kill, but he has been successful in evading the police until this morning when Detective Charles Fenstermaker, detective on the Erie railroad, arrested him at Alger and brought him to this city.

TRAINS

Were Bunched in Snow Drifts.

THE TROUBLE OCCURRED YESTERDAY AT ANNA STATION ON THE C. & D.

The Cincinnati Hamilton and Dayton railroad experienced its share of troubles yesterday near the little town of Anna Station, between this city and Sidney. Here the snow in one of the cuts drifted to such an extent that four freight trains were snowed in and all of the section men and other workmen that could be gathered up along the road could not remove the snow as fast as it drifted. Finally one of the freight trains jumped the track and this added to the seriousness of the situation. Several passenger trains were held as many hours, and it was necessary to send the wrecking crew from this city. Everything is running on schedule time this morning. Four of the dead engines were brought in this afternoon.
